

In the shoes of a scholarship recipient

HUGO VESIN

18 years old

Bachelor in International Hospitality Management

“ My name is Hugo Vesin and I'm originally from Evian on the shores of Lake Geneva. I'm currently in the first year of an international Bachelor's degree in Hospitality Management, which I joined after completing a Baccalaureate in economics and social sciences.

As far as my hobbies and interests are concerned, I enjoy swimming, travelling and above all bringing pleasure to others. The hospitality industry was therefore an obvious choice for me so I could combine these two last passions. After reading at length about the different schools running programmes in this field, I fell under the spell of Institut Paul Bocuse. Indeed, during my discussions with students during the open days and with other professionals working in the sector, I was able to appreciate both the professionalism of the students when they leave the Institute and also the friendly family spirit that reigns between the different classes and the many opportunities and prospects that Institut Paul Bocuse students enjoy at the end of their studies. What really struck me is the family spirit that unites the students.

If I had to choose among the souvenirs I have accumulated over these few months, it would without hesitation be the uniformed parade on the last day of our induction week. It's true that this moment symbolically marked our entry into the Institut Paul Bocuse family and it's a moment that, in my opinion, will remain engraved in our memories for a long time to come. My studies at IPB have therefore lived up to my expectations in full.

In addition, I was able to benefit from an academic excellence scholarship thanks to my high school exam results, which allows me to approach my studies at the Institute more serenely. It is obvious that a student's budget is often tight whether it is for housing, tuition fees or even shopping, but this scholarship means that you don't have to worry and can therefore concentrate on your studies to the best of your ability.

Finally, if I had to send a message to the benefactors of the G&G Péliesson Foundation, it would be a simple, kind and friendly message, in the image of our school. So simply thank you very much for the opportunities that you offer us scholarship students, who are all members of the Institut Paul Bocuse family.
